WALDEMERE, BRIDGEPORT, CONN., DEC. 24, 1887.
Rising phoenix-like from the asbes of my fifth great Rising phenix-like from the ashes of my fifth great fire, which only served to illuminate my path of duty as the American people's champion amusement provider. I have taken into equal partnership my energetic and experienced friend and former associate, J. A. Balley. We have enlarged and vastly improved the greatest show on earth, which we propose to establish as a per-manence, with a reserve capital of several millions of dollars. At an early day we intend to establish in sev-ral of the largest American citiza neutrons. eral of the largest American cities permanent museums, containing many thousands of natural artificial, me-shanical, and scientific curiosities. Each museum will be supplied with an immense lecture room, in which will be given lectures on all important subjects. Intersent to this and future generations a world's fair and a moral school of object teaching of unexampled variety and superior excellence, more amusing, instructive, comprehensive, and vast than was ever before seen or freamed of. comprehensive, and vast than was ever before seen or reasmed of.

It is the price of my declining years that I am able to tive, as the years of my long life of experience and de-ermined effort, that innocent and educational diversion rhinds every one conceives that human nature impera-tion of the present of the price of the price of the partial in a Madison Equare Uarden undoubtedly the best partial in a Madison Equare Carden undoubtedly the partial translated as well as certainly the most varied and many agents in all parts of the world have a larger estade every animal and feature of a character to in-rease the instructive and educational departments and reasity add to the general merit of the exhibitions, all if which will positively be shown on the date mentioned. The public's most obedient servant,

JERE. JOHNSON, JR.,

MERRY CHRISTMAS,

Make Christmas of 1887 merry by buying a lot, Make New Year 1888 happy by owning a Home.

There's none so lowly that where'er they roam Can find a spot on earth so dear as home. One of their own is Fortune's dearest gift. Which all may gain by industry and thrift. Landiords can only be escaped, you understand, By saving up and buying lots of land. Gwn your own lot and soon will come the day A home is yours for what in rent you'd pay.
